

EXTRA MONEY MAKING STRATEGIES

Many of our members follow our advice to use the selections we provide each Saturday for placing their own individual bets on those selections - a great way for members to make additional profits beyond their participation in our Scoop6 entry.

We particularly recommend backing the selections in each race, using the "Dutching" method and also combining our selections in each race for forecasts and tricasts.

As our service regularly provides winners (and 2nds and 3rds) in 2,3,4 or more of the 6 races in which we're involved, our selections represent a very good opportunity for members to make money whether or not we win the Scoop6 as a Club.

Full, easy to understand instructions on these strategies are shown below.

STRATEGY 1 - DUTCHING

"Dutching" is the first strategy. Here's the definition:

"Dutching is a method used to divide a total stake over a number of selections in an event so that the same amount is won regardless of which selection wins. This technique is useful when there are two or more outcomes you wish to back and have a specific amount to stake."

And here's how to do it:

1. Click HERE to bring up a free Dutching Calculator.
2. Look at the selections we have in a particular race and the prices available at the time from your chosen bookmaker.
3. In the box labelled "Total Staked", enter how much you want to bet in total on the race.
4. Enter your bookmaker's prices for each of our selections; you do this in the boxes beside "Selection 1", "Selection 2" etc. and please note, the prices you enter there have to be the decimal prices which are one number higher than the bookmaker odds. For example, for 4/1, enter 5. For 5/1, enter 6. For 7/2, enter 4.5 etc.

5. Once you've completed the above steps, click on the orange "Recalculate" button and then the "Profit" box will show how much profit you'll make on the race if any of the selections win. It's an equal profit whichever selection wins.

Once you've tried it a few times, it's a cinch to use. Here's a simple example of it being used on one of our recent races at Newmarket.

In the Newmarket race, we had two selections

1. Lady Of Camelot (returned at a price of 2/1 - decimal 3.0)
2. Fireglow (returned at a price of 11/4 - decimal 3.75).

Using those two selections in the Dutching Calculator, we enter our "Total Staked" as 50.00. Then, in Selection 1, we enter the price of Lady Of Camelot as 3.0 (2/1) and in Selection 2, we enter 3.75 for Fireglow (it's price was 11/4 as we've said).

Then we click on the orange "Recalculate" button and this shows us:

- Total Staked: £50.00
- Return if any selection wins: £83.33
- Profit: £33.33

So, you've backed two horses for £50 total and with Fireglow winning (which it did), you get back £83.33 including your £50 stake.

That's a simple example, using just two selections at relatively low prices but to end the lesson, here's another recent example from one of our Scoop6 race successes, the 3.40 at Royal Ascot on 18th June:

Again, we had just two selections, racecard numbers 3 and 5 which ended up at prices of 6/4 (2.5 decimal) and 10/1 (11.0 decimal).

Horse number 3 (Dartmouth) won at 10/1 (11.0 decimal) and running that through the Dutching Calculator with a Total Stake of £50.00 produces:

- Total Staked: £50.00
- Return if any selection wins: £101.85
- Profit: £51.85

Dutching is a great way to back all of our selections in a race and to make an equal profit if any of them win.

STRATEGY 2 - OUR WINNING FORECAST AND TRICAST METHOD

As we've already pointed out, our service regularly provides 2,3,4 or more winners out of 6 races on a Saturday. What's more, we regularly have the winner and 2nd (and 3rd) amongst those selections, giving us the opportunity to make lots of money from forecast and tricast bets.

Our bets on these, using our selections have included one win of £3,997.20 for a £120 stake, £1,988.70 for a £24 stake, £568.30 for a £30 stake, another of £171.70 for a £12 stake, a win of £142.10 for a £6 stake....and so on.

For the uninitiated, forecasts and tricast bets are simple and easy to place. The forecast bet is selecting horses to come 1st and 2nd in a race. The tricast is selecting horses to come 1st, 2nd and 3rd.

The tables on the next two pages show some of our recent winning forecasts and tricasts and below the tables, a brief explanation and a staking table (and a secret tip!):

COMBINATION TRICAST / TRIFECTA

DATE	RACE	TOTAL STAKE (£1 UNITS)	TRICAST RETURN	TRIFECTA RETURN
10.12.16	1.15 Cheltenham	£120	£2246.74	£3997.20
05.11.2016	3.10 Aintree	£60	£269.23	£273.30

15.06.2016	3.05 Ascot	£24	£127.82	£180.60
14.06.2016	3.05 Ascot	£6	£56.55	£56.80

All we did to achieve these returns was to combine our selections to come 1st and 2nd (in any order) for the forecast or 1st, 2nd and 3rd (in any order) for the tricast.

The stakes (and returns) shown in the tables are to £1 units but of course, you can bet whatever unit stakes you're comfortable with. Anything from 1p on the forecast and tricast or from 10p on the Exacta or Trifecta. Your profits will just be to scale.

You can see that the returns can be huge.

One of the trifectas we've highlighted above returned £1988.70 for a £24 stake. That's a profit of £1,964.70 and a return of nearly 83 times our stake! Another returned £3,997.20 for a £120 stake, a profit of £3,877.20 at payout odds of 33/1.

And take a look at the exacta returns we've highlighted. They paid out at odds of between 8/1 and 22/1 of total stakes.

How many of those do you need to make great money? Not many!

On the next page, you'll find a table which sets out the number of unit stakes required for combination forecast and tricast bets relative to the number of horses being combined.

Combination Forecast / Tricast Stakes Table

NUMBER OF RUNNERS TO BE COMBINED	NUMBER OF FORECAST UNIT STAKES	NUMBER OF TRICAST UNIT STAKES
3	6	6
4	12	24
5	20	60
6	30	120
7	42	210
8	56	336

One thing to explain (our secret tip) is as follows.....the "combination forecast" bet is one which can be placed with any bookmaker. The same is the case with the "combination tricast" bet. However, the "combination Exacta" and "combination Trifecta" bets are Tote bets. They are exactly the same bets as the "combination forecast" and "combination tricast" bets i.e. 1st 2 home, 1st 3 home and the stakes are the same too. The simple difference is that they are "pool bets" and, more often than not, they return more (for the same stakes). Not a lot of people know that but you do now!

How To Place Tote Exacta And Trifecta Bets

Bet 365 is a good site to place Exacta and Trifecta bets so we'll use that as an example.

When you click on a race on the Bet 365 site, from the morning of the race, you just then click on "Tote" which you will find in the green section at the top, just below the race and time (and next to the "Fixed Odds" button) and then scroll down to the "Exotics" section.

If you're combining our selections in a race for Exactas and/or Trifectas, just click the "Any" boxes against your selections in the Exacta and Trifecta columns, hit the yellow "Add To Bet Slip" button and you're ready to enter your unit stake (in multiples of 10p) and place your bets. It's so easy! Remember, you need at least 2 selections for an Exacta and at least 3 for a Trifecta.

In conclusion.....(see over)

So, we're not selling anything here but if you do purchase shares from us to be included in any of our Saturday Scoop6 entries, you will get all of our selections for each of the 6 races. If you then combine our selections in each race for Combination Forecasts/Exactas and/or Combination Tricasts/Trifectas, well you've seen what the returns can be!

HAPPY BETTING!
